Wendy Nyasha Mahenga --Assignment 101: Introduction to the hospitality industry

TASK:A

#. Four outlets within the hospitality industry and some of the services they offer.

RESTAURANTS

A restaurant is an outlet that prepares and serves food and drinks to customers in exchange for money. Restaurants can range from casual, quick-service eateries to formal, fine-dining establishments, and everything in between.

Services offered

- table service - It is when people enter a restaurant and they order food and eat at the tables in a restaurant.
- Catering (private events, parties) - a restaurant also do outside catering whereby the chefs travel to places where they are hired to cook
- Online Ordering and Delivery - a client might order food online and the delivery man will deliver the food to the client at home or work

2. CAFE and COFFEE SHOP

Cafes and and coffee shops are retail outlets that are established to serve coffee, other beverages, and often snacks or light meals.

Services offered

- Specialty Coffee and Beverages - they make coffee and they also do latte art depending on the customers payment.

- Food - they do baked goods, sandwiches and snacks depending on the beverage's accompaniment

- Co-working and Meeting Spaces - they also offer spaces for meetings whereby companies can have their meetings there.

3. BARS and NIGHTCLUBS

- Bars and nightclubs are establishments that serve alcoholic beverages and provide entertainment, often in the evening or late at night.

Services offered

- Food and Beverage - they offer snacks, drinks, wine, cocktails and pretzels.

- Entertainment - at bars and night clubs they have live bands, DJs, music, soccer watching, darts etc.

- Events - they host events like parties, games like pool competitions etc.

4. CASINOS

A casino is a facility that has various forms of gambling activities such as slot machines, card games, dice games and random number games. casinos are often located near or combined with hotel, restaurants and other tourists attractions. the term casino originally reffered to a small villa or social club, but overtime it has come to be associated with gambling.

Services offered

- Gaming - they offer slots, table games etc.

- Food and beverage - they offer food for the people who are in the casino and they also sell cocktails and mocktails.

- Entertainment - they host live music bands, shows etc.

TASK B

#Job roles in the hospitality industry with the information on two working patterns.

1. sales and marketing team

- Job description

-The sales and marketing team is responsible for promoting and selling hospitality services, such as hotel rooms, event spaces or cruise packages.They develop marketing campaigns, build relationships with clients and partners and strives to meet sales targets

- Working patterns

a. Office based;

-Work in a traditional office setting, Monday to Friday 9am-5pm.

-Spend most of the time on phone calls, emails and meetings with clients and colleagues.

-May occasionally work evenings or weekends for special events or deadlines.

b. Event based;

-Work on-site at events, conferences or trade shows to promote hospitality services.

-Set up and staff booths, give presentations and network with potential customers.

-May work varied shifts including evenings and weekends to cover event hours.

2. WAITER

The duties and responsibilities of a waiter/waitress include welcoming and seating guests ,taking guest orders ,communicating them effectively to the kitchen and addition, memorizing them menu and offering recommendations to up sell appetizers ,desserts or drinks.

WORKING PATTERNS

1. Full-Time:

- Typically 35-40 hours per week
- Regular schedules, with some flexibility
- Often includes benefits like health insurance, paid time off, and retirement plans

2. Flexible:

- Varies from 10-30 hours per week
- Schedules may change weekly or seasonally
- May include flexible hours, split shifts, or on-call work
- Often used for students, those with other commitments, or to supplement income.

Three career opportunities in the hospitality industry both local and international

1.Event coordinator

-Plan and execute events like conferences, weddings and galas from start to finish.

-Coordiate with caterers and audiovisual teams to ensure seamless execution.

-Need excellent oranizastional communication and attention to detail skill. They are usually national jobs.

2. Executive chef

-Lead kitchen operations , menu development and food quality control in a hotel, restaurant or resort.

-Manage kitchen staff and budget to ensure high quality cuisine and profitability.

-Requires culinary expertise, leadership and creative vision.They are usually local jobs.

3.Hotel general manager

-Oversee daily operations of a hotel, including front desk, housekeeping and food service.

-Respondible for revenue growth, customer satisfaction and staff development

-Requires strong leadership, communication and problem solving skills.They are usually local jobs.

Five sources of information for training and career opportunities in the hospitality industry

INTERNET

The internet contains huge variety of information and has come easily accesible for nearly everyone. Social media is the best platform to provide all details and crucial information.

Industry magazines

Hospitality industry magazines provide insights into the latest trends, technologies and best practices.They feature articles on industry developments, product reviews and interviews with professionals.

Colleagues

They provide the information regarding the latest technology used in the hospitality industry .As you develop experience and expertise,you will be in a position to meet a number of colleagues from different establishments and outlets .They are able to provide advice on career pathways and they can perhaps mentor you as your skills develop.

Posters

Poster is a sign posted in a public place as an advertisement of business , job vacancies and other information that can be advertised .These are the most well-known and most used source of information in the hospitality industry.

Newspaper adverts

Advertisements printed in newspapers to promote products, services or business.